1. You'll need to start by carefully removing the toughest parts of the calloused heels with scissors or nail clippers. 2. Then, use a pumice stone or metal nail file to further smooth the skin. These are best used right after a shower or bath when your skin is clean and the skin on your feet is much softer. 2.

What's Causing My Itchy Hands and Feet?

After you've hydrated your skin, apply a thick, even amount of shaving gel over the area you plan to shave. Using shave gel properly will help prevent moisture loss and add an additional layer of protection to avoid any nicks, cuts and hair pulls while you shave, and thus cut down on itchy razor bumps and skin irritation post-shave — especially if you have more sensitive skin.
